Polypropylene bags and PP packaging for industry

We supply polypropylene bags for the packaging, transportation and storage of a wide range of fertilizers, grains, chemicals and other hazardous and non-hazardous bulk goods as well as food products. The bags are lightweight, high quality, versatile and safe for single or reusable use, with one, two or four loops. It is possible to design and manufacture the bags according to specific customer requirements and our polypropylene bags are provided with the logos of the consumer companies, which can be printed in up to 4 colors and on several sides of the bag, depending on the design of the bag. We also meet the requirements of the food chain. Our bags for food packaging are manufactured in accordance with production regulations.
